Calgary Scores at Expo

Calgary Stock Ale, a brand produced by Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Limited competing with 59 other labels, is far and away the out of Province leader, out selling all other out of Province beers at Expo.

Another Calgary brand, Calgary Lager, is also a leader, being the largest seller in Western Beers.

The Calgary Brewery gave Expo another promotional assist. Just over a month ago bottle caps depicting 75 different scenes from Expo appeared in full colour on the Calgary Brewery's products. The number of completely different scenes was chosen to coincide with the Company's 75th Anniversary this year.

The Golden Centennials stole the show at the Armed Forces Day held at Namao on Aug. 5. Eight planes held their audience of approximately 35,000 persons spellbound as they went through a series of loops and other aerobatics, patterns of these manoeuvres appear below. The show also included exciting demonstrations of Air Force planes; CF 104 Star Fighters, Otters, C-130 Hercules and many others including vintage planes. 700 Wing Royal Canadian Air Force Association put on a civilian flying show with stunts even from a B-25 Mitchell and a glider. A thrill for all came from the Edmonton Radio Control Society who had their model planes doing stunts that even the bravest pilot would not try. The Armed Forces Base had displays set up in almost every section of the main hangar and in the grounds around.

Regulations Protect Used Car Buyers

The Honourable Gordon E. Taylor announced that as of Aug 1, every dealer in used motor vehicles prior to entering into a contract to sell a used motor vehicle shall give to the purchaser a certificate of mechanical fitness of the vehicle which the purchaser is buying.

If the motor vehicle complies with the equipment requirements as provided for in The Highway Traffic Act, the dealer will give to the purchaser a certification of motor vehicle compliance. In the event that the motor vehicle does not comply with The Highway Traffic Act, the dealer will be required to indicate which equipment is non-roadworthy and the onus will then be on the purchaser to immediately repair the defective part. In this respect, a dealer will be required to state that the brakes, speedometer, muffler, horn, tail-lights, turn signals, etc., are working or are not working, or whether they are working sufficiently to comply with the requirements of The Highway Traffic Act.

Provision has also been made making it an offence for any person to alter the mileage reading of a speedometer on any motor vehicle except where necessary for mechanical repairs or replacement of the unit.

GLADSTONE CENTENNIAL

St. Albert - Something new in Centennial projects took place when the residents of Gladstone Crescent held a meet - your-neighbour night.

Named the Gladstone Crescent Centennial project the evening started with all the kiddies having a weiner barbecue followed by games and races with chocolate bars for prizes. About 100 children were present.

After putting the children to bed the adults got together for a steak barbecue with about 50 attending. Two neighbours had dismantled their fences to make one area for the picnic.

Those taking part brought their own food and arrangements were made by Alda Myrtheu, Marj. Davis and Wres O'Hara.

All families living on Gladstone received an invitation and the attendance was good but many were away on holidays.

It was felt the success of the affair was due to informality and a desire to know the neighbours. Because of this success it is hoped to make it an annual affair.

St. Albert - The town council is contemplating the appeal of the requisition of the school board of a total of over half a million dollars.

Several courses have to be followed in order to launch an appeal against a school requisition, one of the most important is to hold a meeting with the school boards. This meeting was held on Aug. 8 in the town hall.

The mayor and council wish it made clear that they are not launching the appeal against the local school boards but are questioning the inadequacies of the provincial government foundation program.

To lodge an appeal against the foundation program certain statutory requirements must be followed. The appeal must start against the requisition and the council can then take it from there.

Council hoped when the foundation program set a mill rate of 28 mills it would end large supplementary requisitions but this has not been the case. St. Albert has had their supplementary requisition more than doubled in the past year due to these inadequacies in the foundation program.

St. Albert being a new town has an over balance of elementary children in school compared to those in high school and because of this it felt it is being discriminated against. If more students were in high school the school boards would not have such a huge problem to face.

In the foundation program for example the increase in the foundation grant is only $5 per student against an increase of $30 for junior high school students and $60 for those in senior high school.

The school boards felt this increase rate did not bring the required revenue to St. Albert and stated these grant increase mostly went for salary increases for the teachers and even these grants did not cover their increases.

School requisition figures are as follows: the foundation program $392,204; public school supplementary - $56,254 and separate school supplementary $94,159 making a total of $542,617.

A resolution was passed at the Aug. 8 meeting that the secretary obtain the budget figures from both school boards and that this information will be used towards the lodging of an appeal against the requisition.

Hunting Regulation Changes Include Higher Bag Limits

Ten changes have been implemented in the province's 1967 Game Hunting Regulations.

The Hon. H. A. Ruste, Minister, Department of Lands and Forests, announced last week that the new changes will aid in Alberta's management of game and the enjoyment of sportsmen.

The changes are as follows:

1. A priority antelope application system will be initiated for Antelope Licence Applicants.
2. A limited Sage Grouse season will be instituted for the first time, on an experimental basis. The obtaining of licences will be similar to that for antelope.

3. A special Non-Resident Big Game Licence will be sold. This new licence will allow non-Albertans the opportunity to harvest moose and black bear in the northern regions of the province at a reduced fee of $25.

- Licence for Non-Resident Alien Big Game - 1966 fee was $100 1967 fee $150. Non Resident Big Game - 1966 fee - $50. 1967 $75. Non-Resident Bird Game 1966 fee $2.50 - 1967 fee $5.
5. The long bow rating for archery hunting will be reduced from 45 pounds to 40 pounds pressure in response to the higher calibre of bows being manufactured. The bows will also have to be capable of "casting" a broad head arrow 150 yards.
6. Bag limits on all waterfowl and upland birds (except

Council Prepares for Convention

One of the items under discussion at the meeting of the St. Albert council held on July 31 was the preparation for the forthcoming convention of the Alberta Urban Municipalities Association to be held in Calgary Nov. 2, 3 and 4.

Consideration is to be made with respect to the presentation of resolutions. The matter of resolutions for the Municipal Convention will be on the agenda for the next meeting of council with a view to arranging a special meeting of Council to discuss this and the problems of dormitory areas. A complaint regarding parkland has been resolved and no further complaints received.

The cost estimate of Part 3 of the Urban Renewal Study was accepted and included in the study by the Edmonton Regional Planning Commission.

Mr. O'Hara will be allowed an appeal against the Development Control Officer.

In considering the budget two items were referred from the last meeting. The overall budget was considered with the two following items included: The curling rink for $1,840 and the Handi-bus for $4,500. Also two proper commercial hand mowers will be purchased from whatever funds are available immediately for the parks department.

When the budget was passed by council setting the town's mill rate at 73 mills, Councillor Bakker requested that it be recorded in the minutes that he opposed the motion. The budget still has to be approved by the Local Authorities Board.

The amount of the unexpended debenture funds for the provision of services to complete the Garden Crescent area was raised. Mr. Billings advised that this amount would be approximately $25,000.

The Municipal Research Bureau in Toronto, Ontario will be asked to inform council just what information and services they offer.

pheasants) will be increased in response to marked increase in all bird populations.

7. Non-trophy sheep licences will be made available on a limited basis throughout the entire range of mountain sheep. The experimental season in 1966 met with good success.

9. Adjustments to the definitions of Resident, Non-Resident and Non-Resident Alien have been made.

with the Attorney General's department and the department of highways for the clarification as to the present speed limit in effect in the Town of St. Albert.

The question of library hours came up. A letter from the library board will come up for discussion at the next meeting of council. Also at this meeting the recreation department will report on the use of the tennis court.

Mr. Abram reported that in each instance when weeping tile had been recommended such had been checked with Engineering for approval. Installation is only occasionally recommended for properties where drainage might pose a problem.

Good Report

Good Record.

In an interview with Richard Wheatley, member of the St. Albert Council, the Gazette was told that he did not feel the setting of a mill rate of 73 mills was a good record but when all aspects of the 1967 budget were taken into consideration then he felt they did have a good record.

The new rate shows an increase of 11 mills. Of this 6,683 is an increase in the requisition from the school board to cover both foundation and supplementary expenditures. This is a figure which the council has no control over. Adding the 2,625 mills for the arena and the .254 increase in debenture payment the increase is 9.56. The remaining less than one and half mills increase in a year for the regular cost of running the Town of St. Albert is a record that Mr. Wheatley feels is "not bad".

Mr. Wheatley says that if the Local Authorities Board would permit the town to use the monies that it has bor-owed for the completion of the Garden Crescent site (the developers have not gone ahead with this project) to go towards the arena fund

Letter to the Editor

Dear Sir:

Earlier this year, when we all received our new assessments many of us were quite indignant and took the only course open to us and lodged an objection. Sufficient St. Albertans filed complaints, that the increased land assessments, have for the moment been delayed.

I was quite shocked therefore when I received my new assessment from the Town of St. Albert and read in the Gazette of the proposal to increase the Mill Rate to 73 mills, this would mean very little cash difference between the Provincial Government's increase to which then an increase in the budget surplus could be built up. Mr. Wheatley felt that $28,000 of this money that just lies there would make a big contribution to the $40,000 the council intends to spend on the arena during the year.

we were all against, and the Town Council's proposal.

In my own case, in cold cash, the difference between the Provincial Assessment at the old Mill Rate (429.04) and the New Assessment at the New Mill Rate (431.43) is $2.39 per year more. The 2 mills increase for the Provincial Government mentioned in the Gazette earlier this year would have meant I would have been paying with the Provincial Government assessment - $442.88 per year, or only $11.45 more than is now proposed by our Town Council.

The proposed increase in tears welled up. He seemed oblivious of all but one letter.

This was from Bishop Grandin in Rome telling him of the condition of their venerable Pontiff attacked now on every side by enemies. Enclosed with this was a copy of the Papal decree convoking the twentieth Ecumenical Council. In the midst of his dares and humiliations Pius IX had grandly decided to hold another of the great Ecumenical Councils of the Church, the first of the imposing assemblages since the Council of Trent.

For these reasons smiles and tears were very close together on the priest's face. Chief Sweet-Grass who was very fond of the Man-of-the-Beautiful Mind, came quietly near him, and asked what news he had that moved him so strongly. Father Lacombe explained the letters reading from the decree some words of the grand chief of the Men-of-Prayer.

Immediately the warriors pressed forward to see it. Father Lacombe pointed out the pontiff's name and the heraldic device surmounting the sheet. One old man bent and kissed the page.

"What is the name of the chief of the Men-of-Prayer?" Sweet-Grass asked wonderingly.

"Pius IX is his name, Pius IX!"

Very gravely Sweet-Grass pursued his enquiries.

"May I speak his name -- even though I am not a praying - Indian?"

"To be sure you may," Father Lacombe agreed and Sweet-Grass had him repeat it for him until he felt he could say it correctly.

Then the chief stood up among his braves, holding the Pope's decree in his own hands; and he called out strongly, solemnly, as if he made an invocation:

"Pius IX! Pius IX! . . . Listen, all my people present -- Pius IX! May that name bring us good fortune!"

Then sweeping an arm out over his seated braves:

"Rise!" he called to them, "and say 'Pius IX!'"

And they all rose and repeated after him -- "Pius IX!"

This scene might have furnished another paragraph to Macaulay's admiring study of the Church of Rome. For while its Pontiff, the "Little Father of the Poor," was being driven to his last redoubt in the Vatican -- only saved from the Garibaldian forces two months earlier by an army of men from every civilized nation -- here in this western wilderness new races were enlisting under his banner, and a miserably clad but valiant soldier of Christ was moved to tears at the unlooked-for tribute to his chief.

In the following year Father Lacombe sent the details of the little incident to his early patron, Bishop Bourget, who was then in Rome. The aged Pontiff, profoundly moved by the happening, asked the Bishop to convey his blessing to Father Lacombe, his good chief and Indians.

Comments

by Robert Russell.

Seventeen people have died violently on Highway 2 just south of Edmonton during the last two years and the Minister of Highways has finally taken some action by lowering the speed limit to 50 m.p.h. In one way, the Minister is penalizing the travelling public for his own bungling because we all know that speed was not the cause of all these accidents.

Most of these graves could have been dug the day the Dept of Highways built this the Mill Rate of over 17.5% is in my opinion rather excessive, and I would like to know, as I am sure many others would, what it will be used for.

Perhaps through your columns the Mayor would be good enough to enlighten the St. Albert taxpayers as to EXACTLY what all this additional money is to be used for.

undivided section of one of the heaviest travelled highways in Alberta. Highway experts were already warning of the hazards of undivided four lane high density traffic routes and yet the minister persisted in building this death road. He went on to build the Edmonton - St. Albert portion in the same fashion and it wasn't until several people had been badly injured, resulting in a public outcry before he got around to lighting the section.

Both examples show a deplorable lack of planning and we hope that the mistakes of the past will be of some use in the future. It is time the Minister published a long range highway plan. It could be studied and discussed at all levels of government so that we can build the best and the safest highways in Canada.

Historic St. Albert

Historic St. Albert.

No angels watched visibly over the sleeping camp, but their message had penetrated to the hearts of the Cree warriors. And the promised Peace-to-men-of-Good-will had fallen in divine fullness upon Father Lacombe lying exhausted by the fire on his bed of boughs and skins.

On Sunday night when the last hymn was sung in the chapel-tent Father Lacombe would fain say good-night to his warriors: he did not want to exchange stories over the pipes that night, for the air of his tent was hot, and bad, and he still felt weak. But while the men lingered the doorway of the tent was suddenly thrown open and a Metis courier from St. Albert stamped in with greetings from that mission, and letters that had come by the Company's packet from the Red River.

Congratulations also to the Morinville Ladies Soft Ball team, or maybe we should say the big girls team managed by Miss Lea Riopel, who last week defeated the girls team from Gibbons in a hard fought game. Mrs. John Sawak heads five generations

On Sunday, August 6, Mrs. John Sawak, 90, at the Hardisty Home for Senior Citizens in Edmonton, welcomed great, great granddaughter, three week old Gail Amy Ricard of Morinville. This was a first family reunion of five living generations, all girls, direct descendants. Present were: Mrs. Darlene Ricard, Mrs. Audrey Borle, Mrs. George Skinkowy, and Mrs. Swak and baby Gail Ricard, representing a grand total of 203 years and three months of living by five generations.

Born Ksenia Matwy in Austria, Mrs. Sawak married the late John Chupka at the age of 21. The couple and their five children immigrated to Canada in 1914.

The family settled on a home stead in Heinsburg, Alberta, where two more children were born, before Mr. Chupka's untimely death in 1917. Mrs. Chupka remained on the homestead with her seven children, until her second marriage to Mr. John Sawak, also of Heinsburg. They continued to farm in the district, and two children blessed this second union.

In 1945 Mr. and Mrs. Sawak retired from the farm and moved to Elkpoint, where they lived until the death of her second husband Mr. Sawak in 1950.

Mrs. John Sawak then moved to Edmonton, where she lived with her youngest son, Nick Sawak, until his untimely passing in 1959.

She then retired to Hardisty Home and is now a semi invalid at the age of 90 years.

Mrs. Lesburg feted

The members of the Morinville Co-op Guild feted Mrs. George Lesburg, who was the treasurer of the Guild, at an afternoon tea, held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Steffes, vice-president.

The tea table was laid in white linen decorated with a colorful centre piece of large fresh cut pansies. Mrs. Lesburg was presented with a Centennial Rose corsage by President Mrs. Rose Martel. A delicious fancy tea was served by Mrs. Armour Middleton, Mrs. Matt Hittinger and Mrs. Steffes.

Later Mrs. Lesburg was presented with a graceful, venetian glass vase of peacock blue, on behalf of the members of the guild and the Morinville Co-op sidewalks for pedestrians?

Last Thursday morning, an elderly lady was seen walking from the Post Office towards the bakery on main street. At the same time two young boys (10-12) came barelling from the east, on the sidewalk going west on their bikes. Both boys stayed on their bicycles as they approached the pedestrian, with no reduction in speed and rushed past this lady, one on each side with out regard or respect for her welfare or safety.

This habit of using sidewalks for bicycle riding in Morinville is nothing new. Now even motor bikes are seen racing for a block or two on sidewalks when the street is muddy. But what is new is the population explosion of bike riders, having apparently no experience and no guidance as to what the laws concerning bikes and motor bikes are.

Is it now a fact, that each parent, who provides a bike or permits his child to ride a bike or motor bike is responsible for the behaviour of his child at all times?

Children should know before hand the rules in regard to bicycles and motore bikes in their town. The law states very clearly that at no time are bicycles permitted on sidewalks. That simply mean that your children are not permitted to ride the streets on bikes at any time, Mr. and Mrs. Morinville, this rule is without exemption, whether streets are wet or dry.

What has happened to the Peddle Pushers Club that was formed in Morinville last Spring? Do not blame Constable Dubord or any other citizen that has no time to babysit a group of youngsters. It is up to the parents to form such groups to plan and supervise amusement for all the children of this community.

Organization of childrens recreation is clearly the responsibility of the adults and the Town Leaders. There was absolutely nothing provided this year for the children of Morinville. Those who can afford it leave for the summer months, the children of other families are left to roam the streets, and get into mischief. Boredom is the prime root of juvenile Delinquency. Let's get busy and keep our children off the sidewalks while riding their bicycles.
